A second heavy white frost yesterday morning, and another chill for the fruit and early vegetation. Opinions continue to differ widely as to the effect on the peach and wheat crops, some saying it is badly damaged, others that it is very slightly injured. Mr. Geo. W. Bird, of the Beaver Ridge nursery, who is well posted on the peach question, gives it as his opinion that in low places peaches are pretty well destroyed, but on hills they are not hurt.

Improvement Notes.

Mr. Robt. Ambrose, of the firm of J. T. Ambrose & Son, contractors, builders, etc., informs us that they are having more work in the building line than they can do, which goes to show that the spirit of improvement about the city is on the advance. They have now in course of erection two handsome frame dwelling houses, on Fifth avenue, east of Crozier street, one for Capt. J. M. Brooks and one for Miss Ida Lee. They have also the contract for erecting a dwelling for Engineer Monroe Reams, in the same locality, which will be commenced in a short time. Besides, they have bids on a large number of smaller dwellings to be put up this spring, most of them north of the railroad, where the spirit of improvement is more conspicuous.

The framework of the new dwelling being erected by Mr. W. H. Simmons, on Fort Saunders, which was blown down a week ago, has been put in position, and the building is well under headway. Mr. Samuel McKinney has added a noticeable improvement to his elegant residence on Main street, in the shape of a large and commodious green house. Capt. W. W. Woodruff is making valuable additions to the attractiveness of his magnificent mansion and grounds west of the city. He has enclosed the lot fronting towards the University with a rock wall and iron fence, which are so popular in Knoxville now, and has graded and beautified his grounds very much.

Another boom for Herbert Hall. Call and see his stylish Hats and Shoes, and they are cheap, too.

"Indigestion."

You have tried everything for it and found no help. We are no doctors, but can offer a prescription that has cured very many, and it might cure you as well; it will cost but a quarter dollar, and can be had at any druggist's. Ask for Perry Davis' PAIN-KILLER.

Attention is called to the notice to be found in another column from Chairman Murphy, of the sanitary committee of the city council, inviting proposals for the removal of slops, garbage, etc., from the city limits.

It must have been a "fat" day for the "bitters" vendors about the city yesterday, judging from the score at the lock-up. At one time in the afternoon there were five d. d's registered, and the police were on the lookout for more.

Madam Louis' Dancing School.

Madam L. Louis met with quite a flattering success at the opening of her select dancing school over the New Orleans store yesterday evening. She had a large attendance of the representative ladies of the city, with their children, and a large class was organized. The Madam is thoroughly proficient in all the newest dances, is a pleasant and agreeable lady, and her class presents extra advantages to ladies or children wishing to take lessons. She gives her next lesson Tuesday evening at 5 o'clock.

It is a well-ascertained physiological fact that the origin of most of the ill that afflict humanity is a deranged condition of the alimentary canal. The bowels become constipated and sluggish, and thence arises a train of painful and distressing maladies. As a preventive and cure, there is no remedy so safe and sure as Dr. TUTT'S Liver Pills.

Good and fine Shoes at Herbert Hall's, cheap.

Is it War?

A card from a Newport correspondent informs us that "the republican and democratic editors, Messrs. Bible and Thomas, left here this morning, armed with double-barreled shot-guns. They went in the direction of the famous shooting ground on the North Carolina line. Their friends are apprehensive." THE CHRONICLE would not object to a hind quarter of a deer, in case the beligerent editors are successful.

Not Dead.

A note from John Cummins, Esq., stated that the peaches on Beaver Ridge are not killed as was reported yesterday. Another gentleman tells us the same, and also says they are not all killed in the valleys. The apples are uninjured.

A Remarkable Snake Story.

While sitting in the county court clerk's office a few days since, we overheard a somewhat remarkable and highly interesting snake story, from the lips of a veteran and decrepit colored man, who was asking assistance from the county court, or rather the privilege of free license to huckster, etc. The story runs about thus: The old man's name is Abraham Walker. He came to this city a few weeks ago from Anderson county, near Clinton. About three years ago he was working on a farm, replanting corn, and while stooping down, with his left hand near some weeds, he felt a sting of some kind, and, lifting up his hand, he found a snake about two and a-half or three feet long hanging to the fore finger of his left hand. He shook it violently off, and it fell to the ground, where it lay apparently stunned for a time, and then began coiling up and biting itself. He then killed it with his hoe.

One of some children who were with the old man had the precaution to put a cord around his arm, and then started to take him across the field to the house, about three-quarters of a mile, but he was so affected with fright and pain from the poison which was rapidly coursing through his system, that it was with much difficulty. On arriving there the first thing done was to catch a live chicken, and cut a hole in its side, into which the old man inserted the bitten finger. In a very short time the chicken was dead, the feathers began to slip from it, and the flesh to assume a greenish color. Another chicken could not be procured, but a quantity of milk was poured into the old man, which caused him to throw up a lot of slimy, green substance. Other treatment was given him, and he partially recovered, but his hand and arm are gradually wasting away, and his whole body is at time affected. Some parties went and found the snake which had bitten him to be a copperhead.
